An Alien Prince Bound by Duty.

Gripped by a fierce mating fever, Prince Korven is ordered home to marry highborn stranger. The three month long journey is filled with peril and he must keep his identity secret. As fate would have it, he crossed paths with Adelle, a most intriguing and infuriating human female.

Primitive instinct claws inside him demanding the curvy woman with the insolent tone yet fragile gaze. He wants to own her, to make her his mate and rule his kingdom with her at his side.

She can deny him all she likes but he sees the desire in her eyes. Her whispered protests only make him want her more.

And the prince always gets what he wants.

A woman guarding her heart.

Orphaned Adelle might be curvy and girlish but she knows her craft, and she doesn't need an expensive certificate to prove it. No one understands deep space engines like she does. She's determined to keep head down and do her job, earn enough credit and finish her schooling.

She doesn't have time for some oversexed alien, even if he is the most gorgeous male she's ever encountered. She's a nobody. They're not even from the same planet. But stranded alone on an empty world, they must work together to survive and discover they can't deny the fire that rages between them.

Happily Ever After! Stand alone story with blazing hot passion. No cheating and no cliffhangers.
